

I'm More Than Enough

You couldn't handle me
Not even on my worst day
I pissed on the doctor
First thing on my first day
Of my birthday
But I could piss you off
As the first thing before church day
So piss off
I could be the worst thing
After your Thursdays

I am rough and tough
Not to bring up stuff from the past
But I'm buff enough to not let your words
Cripple my back
I walk with a strut
It's my feet that I trust
Because it seems to be moving
While you count on a crutch

I am more than great
I never felt appreciated
Don't take my words lightly
My strength is no longer vacant
I stood still and used to be naked
As I put all of my thoughts on the paper
These were raw threads
That I wore in my favor

Your trend was based off of hatred
And the sad part is that you bought it
So when the tailor made it
You took it as a way to look garnished
I am in the making of taking things
Except everything in your closet
I am the rewind button
You're the button that says "pause it"

I'm more than what you thought

But most of the time, you are thoughtless
So thinking about me is not a deed
That you should be offering
For to think of me without a thought
Are lessons learned and never taught
So when you talk about your thoughts
They begin to look like they were lost

I am more than special
I am on another level
That's leveled to level out the devil
And leave his brain disheveled
I apply pressure to diamonds
I break bars of confinement
It is truth that you seek
So that means that you're lying

I am more than a man
I am a lion maintained
Tamed with my brain trying
I flourish in the mane
It's no use if there's no juice
I'm so used to drinking water
That my words come out fluid
As for you, talking gets harder

I am more than what I'm saying
Why do I include you in my portrayals?
You don't belong here
You're on the belt of a conveyor
Just replicated; I am original
We are separated
So for the rest of this time
I won't waste lines or extra paper

I am what I turned out to be
I really turned out
From being burnt out
Because I learned to burn bridges
Whoever says they are Actually isn't
But one of my hobbies tends to be
Minding my business

Because it's within one of my prescriptions
All it takes is an instance
To notice what's missing
My nose isn't itching
My palm isn't sweating
My chest isn't heaving
I love when greatness comes to visit

I am all that is gold
Maybe I'm platinum
A silver dollar won't add
Up to my status
Dollar bills couldn't tip the scales
But oh well
Money can't buy happiness
But I don't cry when I fail

I am what I foretold
Font letters in bold
My speech can leave you cold
My teeth will say it all
My tongue will say it smooth
My voice will make the food
Because tonight we will feast
And my tone will set the mood

I am more than just better
I am a four-letter word
It isn't what you think
But it's easy to observe
It gets lost when you blink
I find a win within the loss
Because it shows within my work
And that's what makes me a BOSS

I am hard to explain
But allow me to try
I get sober off of beer
I am normal when I'm high
I fell off when I heard
That nature was but a lie
Basically I left the crowd
And walked inside Nature's strides

I am better than me
This will sound confusing
But the thought of me
Becomes a thought that's inconclusive
I don't want to live the past
So I keep my feet moving
I don't want to know who I was
I'm only concerned with what I'm doing

I am a damn good reason
For you to get to know me
But if you cross me sideways
You'll have to pay what you owe me
I don't do things my way
There is always another choice
I work with the clock's pace
And direct it with my voice

I am the king of kings
That's exactly what they named me
I bring out royal carpets
That's the kind of role my name brings
Alexander, Alexander
Where art thou?
I'm raising my sword up
To bring the opposition down

So I am more than enough
That's not only the title
It's words inscribed
Inside the holiest of bibles
Word of it slips through the mouth
The message soaking in saliva
My name cannot be cramped
Like I keep a shelf full of Midol

Don't ever count me out
Let's count all of my wins
For whenever I'm in doubt
I brush it off in the wind
I lifted to become a champion
I graduated college
Time was like a manakin
I took the time to take in knowledge

I never slept on the Ambien
Depression came; I fought it
My hands turned into fists
And I never missed my target
I burned bridges after construction
I brought fire to the candles
I sang songs through the deserts
And walked with thongs on my sandals

As I walked my way through hell
I exposed people as a scandal
I started out as a peasant
I stayed gifted in the presence
When I felt stuck in the crevice
I cut through all of the tangles
I'll never be wrong
When I'm in the right angle

I taught peace as a menace
I made a racket like tennis
I didn't stop moving ahead
I am the end of a sentence
I maintained my exclamation
I'm the flag of independence
I am the heart of moderation
I am the reason that you're offended

SO I AM MORE THAN ENOUGH
There's no need for a reintroduction
I used my hands as a hammer
My mind planned the reconstruction
My feet swirled in gold dust
My chest was the function
My body and soul
Have a place in life's induction
